protect his own side rather than to gain control. This puts a different light on the situation.

If this information is correct, Mr. Priddy, who is president of the association, fears that the Barringer faction may secure the passage of a resolution by the alumni repudiating the action of the welfare committee in bringing the recent charges and expressing confidence in Dr. Barringer.

Mr. Priddy is reported to be formulated in the Garfield Hospital, Washington, where she first met the man known as Collins. She nursed him through a severe illness, and there was mutual love. Though but nineteen years old, she received the consent of her relatives, and they were married cuttion of any kind, either of mitorsalition of any kind, either of mitorsalition of denunciation of the welfart committee's action. MEMORIAL SOCIETY HOLDS PTS ANNUAL MEETING

Twenty years of service in perpetuating the history of the Confederacy were completed yesterday, when the Confederate Memorial Society held its annual session in the Confederate Museum. Everything was shown to be in good order, and many interesting additions to the museum were reported.

The compilation of the roll of homo of names and commands of all Confederate Veterans was reported to be pregressing well under the supervision of Mrs. James N. Duniop. Many volumes have been completed in this work.

Mrs. Lizzie Cary Daniel, first vice president, read the report of the president, Mrs. Joseph Bryan, who could not attend the session. Mrs. Daniel stated that the State Board of Education had agreed to the surgestion of the Society that a memorial annual be nublished to relate to some Confederate topic or person. Superintendent Ergleston has appointed the following committee to select the subject Mrs. Kate Pleasants Minor, chairman Judge Gee. L. Christian, Professor J. H. Binford.

Present at the meeting by special invitation were a number of members of the Eighth New York Heavy Artillery, who are in Richmond in connection with the dedication of a monument in Federal cennetery to the memory of their late commander.

Addresses were delivered by Major tery to the memory of their late commander.

Addresses were delivered by Major J. C. Hemphill and James Hudnutte, commander of a G. A. R. post in New York, and the old songs of the Confederacy were sung by seventy-five children, pupils of the Springfield public school. Crosses of honor were presented to members of the camp by Mrs. Chapman; Mrs. L. C. Johnson, of Charleston, S. C., vice-regent of the Confederate Museum, and Mrs. B. A. Blenner, registrar of the local chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

Stricken With Paralysis While Talking With Friends in Westmoreland Club.

John Jackson, a clerk in the office of the State Auditor, was stricken with paralysis yesterday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock in the Westmoreland Club, and died at the Memorial Hospital this morning at 2 o'clock. His family was notified immediately after he was stricken, and was with him when he was taken into the hospital.

Mr. Jackson was in apparently good health, and was talking to a group of friends when the attack came. He had not complained about his health. His whole left, side was paralyzed, and when the ambulance came to take him to the hospital he was hardly conscious.

He was slightly conscious just after he arrived in the hospital, but larged into a state of coma shortly afterwards, and had not been ahle to recognize even the members of his family.

Mr. Jackson was born in Lunenburg county sixty-two years ago, and was at one time a prominent figure in politics. He was a member of the Legislature from Lunenburg, and held many positions in his county. He moved with his family to Richmond a number of years ago, and took up his work in the Auditor's office recently, having previously been in the insurance business.

Smith has been in prison four years since the last conviction. If the Governor cuts off the five years in one year more he may apply for a parole.

REJECT ALL BIDS

No Advertisements Printed for Work at Onkwood Cemetery.

All bids for laying about $1,200 worth of concrete guttering and curbing in Oakwood Cemetery were rejected last night by the Council Committee on Cemeterles, because the usual advertisements had not been inserted in the newspapers, and because a certified check was not required from each bidder.

Councilman Batkins said he was absolutely opposed to any committee awarding contracts for work, no matter how small, unless bids are advertised for and unless a check to show good faith on the part of the contractor is sent with the estimates.

It was explained that the bids for work in Oakwood Cemetery had not been advertised for, because a subcommittee ordered the superintendent to simply notify contractors by letter. No criticism was made of the committee for not advertising for bids, but councilman Batkins and other members of the committee said they believed it no more than right and just that everybody should have a chance to bid on city work. The clerk was authorized to advertise in the newstappers for new bids.
